

Track Changes Options for Review and How to View

- In this tutorial, you will learn how to set options for reviewing the TRACK CHANGES and to how to view changes in your document.

Locating Track Changes Area

The TRACK CHANGES area is on the REVIEW tab on the ribbon under the Tracking section.

Show Markups

Step 1: Once track changes is enabled, you can choose what items you want to show when viewing changes. Click the Show Markup down arrow.

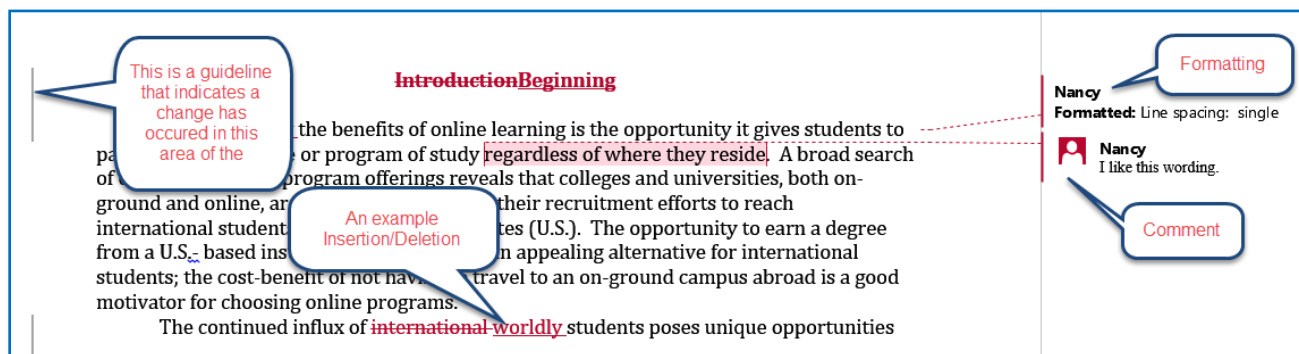

Step 2: The down arrow will show many options to choose for review. Chose the options that suit your review needs.

- A) This will allow you to see Comments listed on the right hand side when viewing markups.
- B) Ink – for tablets only – allows viewing of handwritten notes.
- C) Insertions and Deletions – shows changes to the document such as added and deleted words, punctuation, phases, etc.
- D) Formatting – shows changes in formatting such as sentence placement, paragraphs, spacing, etc.
- E) Balloons – these are the notes on the right side of the screen when viewing Markups. You can turn them on, turn them off or choose to only see comments in that area.
- F) Specific People – allow specific people in a group to view markups.

In the view below you have selected Comments, Insertions and Deletions, Formatting and Balloons set to view comments only.

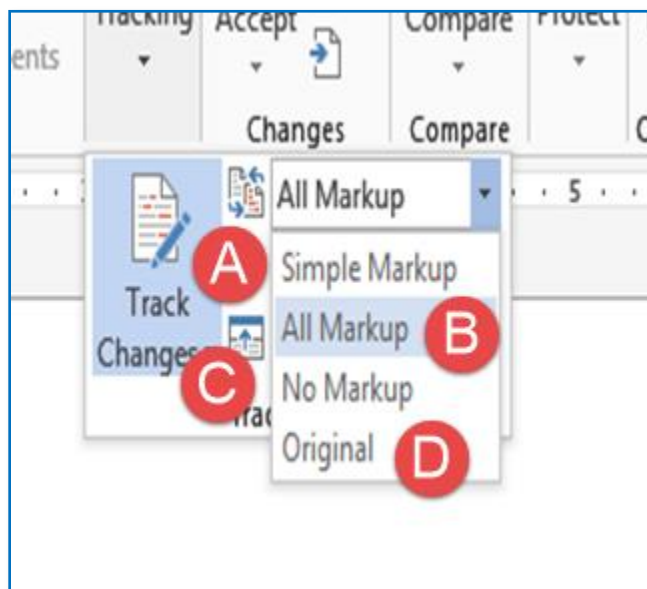

Markup View

Step 1: Once track changes is enabled, you can choose how to view changes. Click the View Markup down arrow.

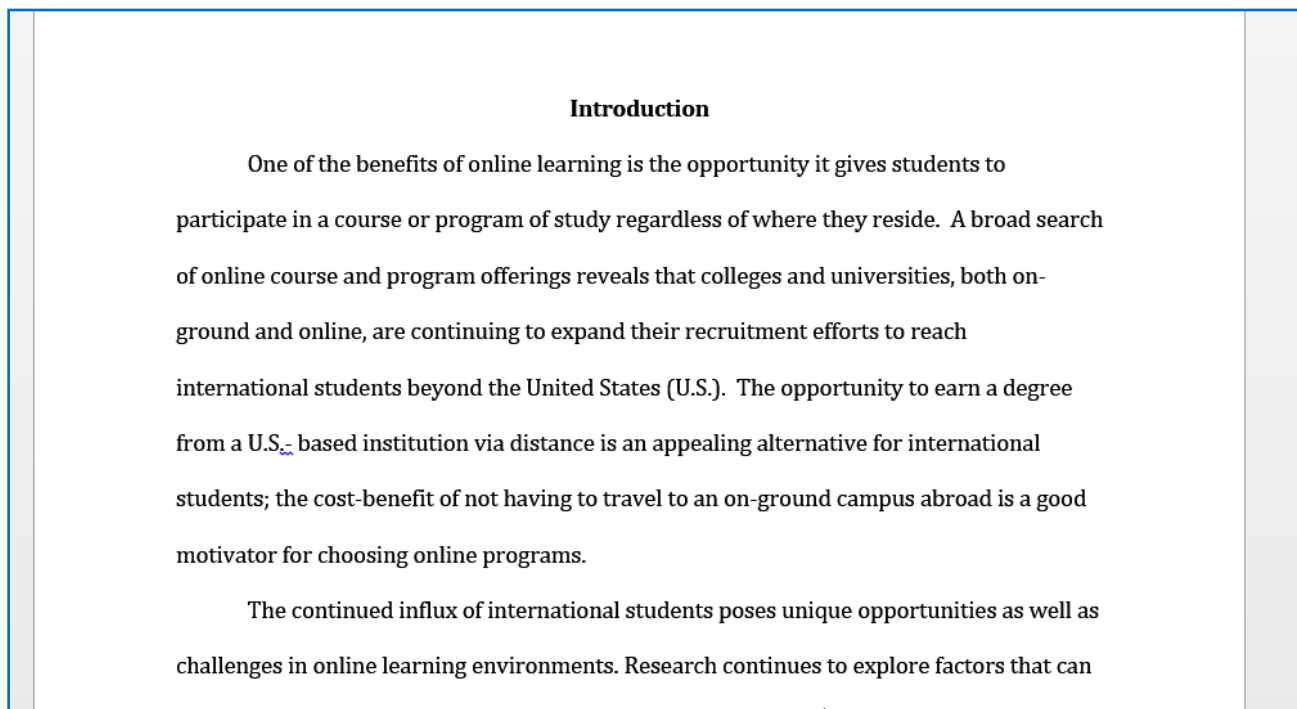

Step 2: The down arrow will show many options for viewing. Chose the options that suit your viewing needs.

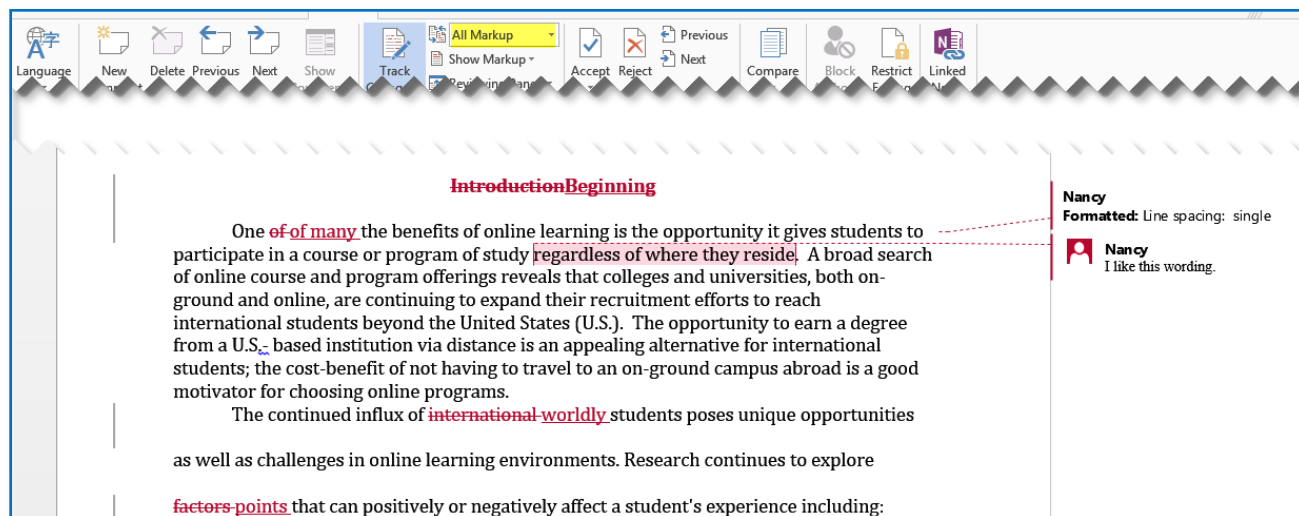

- A) Simple Markup shows the changes as if they were complete in the document with the guidelines showing where changes occurred and only comments showing on the right side.
- B) All Markup shows all the markup options you chose under Show Markups.
- C) No Markup shows no markups; only the changes.
- D) Original shows only the original document, no changes integrated into the document.
