

Assignment: Ethical Lenses and Leadership

In this Assignment, you will be assessed by the following outcome:

GB590-1: Synthesize consequentialism (results) theories within business conflicts of interest.

This Assignment requires that you complete the Ethical Lens Inventory (ELI), for which you will receive 30 points. Once completed, you will write a paper that answers the following questions:

1. Report the findings of your ELI. Include your overall type and the strength of the type as reported on the two axes. Be sure to cite your findings and do not copy and paste information from your ELI results into your paper. Use your own words.
2. Summarize the ethical theories associated with your type. This section requires at least three scholarly references. Again, assure you use your own words, and do not copy and paste information from your research into your paper. Assure you discuss the theories and seminal theorists behind your lens (see the conceptual maps that precede the chapter covering your specific lens for guidance).
3. Provide AT LEAST one example of how you have applied your preferred lens in a personal or professional setting that reflects your lens's strengths, with special consideration to the consequences of your action.
4. Provide AT LEAST one example of how you have applied your preferred lens in a personal or professional setting that reflects your lens's weaknesses with special consideration to the consequences of your action.
5. Discuss how you will use your knowledge of your preferred lens when managing or leading others, with special consideration to the consequences of your actions.
6. Discuss how you will overcome the challenges of your lens when leading or managing, with special consideration to the consequences of your action.
7. Because this week's focus is on the Results Lens, using your first example, what would you have done had your ELI showed you preferred the Results Lens? Be sure to apply Utilitarian Theory in your answer. (If your ELI outcome was the Results Lens, there is no need to do this part)
